May Wed Two Local Schools

Consolidation of Umbarger Common School District with Canyon Independent School District was discussed Thursday night of last week at a joint meeting of the two school boards.

No decision was reached. Canyon Superintendent Jerry Jacobs said if such consolidation is effected it probably will come this summer.

About 60 students are being taught by four teachers in eight grades at Umbarger presently.

Financial difficulties for Umbarger school have been growing steadily worse for some time, according to County Judge Carroll Brown, county school superintendent.

Jacobs said 40 students, 36 of them in grades 9 through 12, transfer to Canyon at a cost to the Umbarger district of about $330 each for this school term. Some students from the Canyon district transfer to Umbarger and Umbarger is given credit (See SCHOOLS, Page 14)

Afro History At University

As a result of a recent meeting between administration and faculty representatives and Negro students at West Texas State University, at least one Negro history course may be offered next school year.

The students met with Dr. Dwayne Guy, head of the university history department, and Dr. Ray Malzahn, dean of the college of Arts and Sciences last week to discuss the possibility of establishing such courses.

Dr. Guy said no plans for such courses have been formalized.

acting on a motion by Bud Curtis, approved the report and asked that it be submitted to the university's Board of Regents for consideration.

Monday night's banquet culminated an 18-month study of WTSU in all its aspects by the committee.

Many of the report's recommendations were listed in the May 4 Canyon Sunday News.

Mrs. Louise Bruce was given special recognition at the affair for what was termed her untiring work on the committee.

Also awarded a special honor was Mrs. Sandy Buttrill, secretary to Dr. Emmitt Smith, vice president for program development and research at WTSU.

Judge Carl Periman, committee chairman, told those present the executive committee of the group met four times to consider rough drafts of the final report.

"I am proud of this report," he said. "I am grateful to the faculty, administrators and

CHS Choirs Given Top Trophies

Canyon High School received trophies for outstanding girl's and boy's choir in Class AAA choral competition last week end at Corpus Christi.

The boys' choir was the only boys choir, including AAAA schools, to receive a superior rating, according to Miss Linda Adams, choir instructor.

Attending the Buccaneer Choir Festival in Corpus Christi were 115 CHS students and eight sponsors.

Six soloists from the choir received first divisions on solo competition. They were Armetha Lindley, Mike Shapley, Buddy Roland, Shelly Taylor, Candy Carpenter and Gene Morrison.

Two soloists, Terry Landrum and Judy Roland, received second divisions.

In the ensemble judging superior ratings were given to Canyon for a boys quartet, composed of Gary Moore, Terry Landrum, Jerry Landrum and Larry Daniel, and the Madrigal Singers including Shelly Taylor, Armetha Lindley, Shelly Yates, Judy Roland, Buddy Roland, Ronnie Williams and Barry Cox.

property valued at $10,000 will amount to only 7 cents.

Here's how it all came about.

The court set the taxable value of real and personal property at 17 percent of 100 percent evaluation, lowered the lateral road fund tax from 30 cents to 15 cents and the unlimited road bond tax from 20 cents to 12 cents.

This lowered the total state and county rate from $1.92 to $1.69 exclusive of any water district tax that might be levied.

The basis for taxation had been 15 percent of 100 percent evaluation until court action Monday.

Under the previous rate and base taxes on a piece of real or personal property valued at $10,000 was $28.80. Under the new basis tax on the same piece of property will be $28.73.

Early last month the court voted to retain the same 100 percent evaluations on farm property as used in 1968. The 1968 schedule for farm property is $9 an acre for rough land and lake bottom, $35 an acre for good grass land, $55 to $65 an acre for No. 1 dry-

Old South Set At WT

The annual Old South Day parade, held by Kappa Alpha Order, social fraternity at West Texas State University, will be at 4 p.m. today.

City Commissioners granted the order's request to parade on city streets last week.

The parade is to travel on 4th Avenue between 23rd and 25th Streets. It is to be about 30 minutes and to include 40-50 horses, 12 foot soldiers and a survey.

The parade is to end in front of the Old Administration Building on the campus.

A semi-formal dance will be held Friday night.

The parade came under fire last spring from several Negro and white students who picketed the affair.

Confirm Kerbel's New Post

Joe Kerbel probably will be confirmed as West Texas State University athletic director when the board of regents, Texas senior colleges, meets in Austin Friday.

Kerbel succeeds retiring Frank Kimbrough.

He is slated to retain his position as head football coach at WTSU while performing the duties of athletic director.

According to plans, Kimbrough will remain as assistant athletic director.

Also, Dr. Pat Sullivan will probably be confirmed as head of the WTSU English Department.

WTSU President James P. Cornette and Financial Vice President Virgil Henson will meet with the board. Dr. Cornette Wednesday said other WTSU matters to be considered by the board are routine.

Carp Killed At Buffalo Refuge

Fish kill—mostly carp—ran into the thousands of pounds early this week at Buffalo Lake. Water of the lake was treated with rotenone Monday morning and some 4,500 flocked to the lake to harvest the surfaced fish.

Paul Ferguson, Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge manager, explained that rotenone is a suffocant. It gets into the gills but not the meat of the fish. The meat is not damaged.

Refuge personnel were using dump trucks Tuesday to haul away the fish which drifted onto

Two Youths Get Probated Terms

Two Amarillo youths were placed on probation for 10 years Tuesday after a jury of four women and eight men found the pair guilty of raping a 14-year-old girl.

Found guilty were Tommy Castleberry and Mike Mason, both 17.

The jury deliberated an hour and seven minutes before returning the guilty verdict.

Defense Attorney Tom Prioli of Amarillo asked that the jury be polled. Each solemnly proclaimed his support of the verdict.

Assistant District Attorney Mike Hinton made the state's closing remarks to the jury and forcefully asked for a conviction.

The jury left punishment up to District Judge Gene Jordan.

Pierce Dissents On Calling Vote

BY TROY MARTIN
Canyon voters will decide the fate of proposed parking limitations along 23rd Street (US 87) and an adjacent avenue in an election May 23.

There was one dissenting vote when the city commission in a special meeting Wednesday decided to call the election.

The single nay vote was cast by Commissioner Felix Pierce who said he is for letting the people decide but wants to delay the election.

City officials say the proposition on the ballot will be essentially the same as an ordinance passed April 23. That ordinance would prohibit parking on 23rd Street from the south city limits to the north city limits and from 22nd Street to 24th Street on Fourth Avenue.

They say these parking limitations are necessary to facilitate left turn controls. These require five lanes and the entire width of the street will be needed for them.

Pierce cast the only dissenting vote when that ordinance was passed.

"I would recommend a special election so that all the people involved will have a say on whether to initiate this program or not," said Mayor Paul Lindsey as he opened the Wednesday morning meeting.

"I have researched the program very carefully," said Commissioner Kenneth Olsen. "I've done a great deal of soul searching and the situation has not improved."

Olsen noted that the problems along 23rd Street have been studied diligently and over a long period of time by city commissioners.

He pointed out that left turn lanes, parking limitation, and painted medians received unanimous approval by the commission a year ago. He said the program had been recommended by the State Highway Department and a consulting engineer.

"Some merchants thought their businesses would be done irreparable damage," Olsen went on. The ordinance was rescinded.

"I think it is proper now to ask the citizens what we should do," the commissioner declared.

Pierce said the city should be interested in more than just moving traffic and at that point introduced a letter from R. L. Lewis, chief engineer of highway design from the Texas Highway Department, to Ray (See VOTE, Page 14)

Water Is Discussed At Meeting

Importation of water from the Mississippi was urged here again Monday night by Tom McFarland, manager of the High Plains Underground Water District.

McFarland spoke at a meeting at the Farm Bureau Building here in Canyon.

"I don't believe in perpetuating the myth that this will be a good dryland country again," said McFarland. "Because it won't."

McFarland said he is a strong advocate of the private ownership of underground water but that forces in this state are working to undermine that ownership.

He went on to plug importation of water from the Mississippi.

"We have reached a new plateau in water thinking," he said. "Water is getting to be a very high priced commodity."

He recommended, as have other speakers here in recent months, a water district as a political sub-division with taxing powers. He said there has to be some entity which can contract for 20,000,000 acre feet of water annually.

He pointed out that California began a water importation study back in the 1940s and that it is (See WATER, Page 14)

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Congressman Bob Price came under fire Sunday morning in a television program on Channel 10 called "Religious Questions."

The program is usually political in nature rather than religious and Sunday was no exception.

Congressman Price was tried in absentia for a statement he made on the West Texas State University Campus last month.

Bob made the statement that the United States has the power to reduce China to a sandy beach without ever sending a single soldier to the Asian mainland.

Moderator of the TV program, Rev. Orris Soustad of Amarillo, read the quotation from a newspaper clipping and subsequent discussion by the panel at least implied that the statement was made as a threat.

The quotation was used out of context and the meaning attributed to it by the panel was the exact opposite to the tenor of the congressman's talk.

Price was discussing our presence in the Far East.

He had just told WTSU students that the US is in Vietnam because Vietnam is a part of a defensive arc thrown around Red China. He said portions of this arc include South Korea, Formosa, the Philippines, Okinawa, Japan, Indonesia and Australia.

What Price actually said was that the US is using all possible restraint and by maintaining this defensive arc around Red China attempting to avert the necessity for using its terrible nuclear potential against that country in order to survive.

The Rev. George Sallaway of Canyon used the ominous word "genocide" in connection with the Price speech and Rabbi Maurice Feuer spoke of the need for basic honesty on the same program.

The panel seemed to agree that international communism is no longer the dangerous threat to world safety that it used to be and implied that people like Bob Price are somewhat hysterical in their approach to it.

Members of the panel seemed to be in agreement that we should do more negotiating with Russia and Red China.

Being one of that hysterical group that still looks on international communism with distrust, I called both Rabbi Feuer and Rev. Soustad on the telephone later Sunday.

I asked the rabbi just how we go about negotiating with the dictators of China and Russia. After all, I pointed out, millions of his fellow Jews were transformed into soap while England (occupying the same position in the world at that time as held by the US now) negotiated with Hitler.

Rabbi Feuer said he thinks the rulers of China and Russia are rational people while Hitler was a mad man.

How do you test rationality? Newspapers across China have asserted on their front pages as a gospel fact that mere reading aloud the sayings of Chairman Mao will cause a feather to levitate to Heaven.

Is this rational? Chairman Mao purported to swim nine miles up the Yangtze River while crowds along the bank cheered him. He was actually supported by Red Navy frogmen.

Is this rational? Red troops at the beginning of the Mao regime loaded peasants reluctant to give up their land into ox carts, poured gasoline on them, torched them and then pulled them screaming through village streets.

Is this rational? We have the word for these happenings and many others from British news agencies operating inside Red China.

Hitler's murderers were pickers by the side of those who get their orders from the Kremlin.

One of the prime objectives of communists the world over is to destroy the leadership and thereby the will to resist of its adversaries.

Stalin once boasted to Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill that he had slaughtered millions to consolidate his empire. And that was before the post-war blood letting superintended by Nikita Khrushchev in the Ukraine at Stalin's behest.

The cream of Poland's officer corps was massacred in the Katyn Forest on orders from the Kremlin. This made the Soviet's task of Russianizing Poland much easier after the war.

Readers Digest carried an account a few months back of how people fled North Vietnam after the country was partitioned in 1954. It also told of how bamboo spears were driven from ear to ear through the heads of small children as a warning to village chiefs to cooperate with the Reds.

We could go on and on about the tender mercies of the communists who somehow have managed to convince numbers of Americans, including many who fill pulpits, that they now are wearing white hats and have at last become good guys.

I usually do not discuss religion or ministers in this column but when a minister steps into the political arena he automatically forfeits whatever immunity from criticism the cloth might previously have afforded him.

Childhood Education Conference

Noted educator and author, James L. Hymes, professor of education at the University of Maryland, will be guest consultant at a conference on early childhood education on the campus of West Texas State University Saturday, May 17.

The all-day conference is co-sponsored by the school of teacher education at WTSU and PESO education service center, Region 16.

The meeting will be for school administrators, public school teachers, kindergarten teachers and university personnel along with representatives of the Texas Education Agency and PESO service center.

Located in the Student Union Building ballroom, the conference will convene at 9 a.m.

Dr. Hymes has authored a number of books on child development for teachers, students and parents as well as some books for children.

His books will be on display at the WTSU bookstore during the conference, according to Mrs. J. D. Strickland, PESO conference chairman and elementary education specialist.

Letters To The Editor

April 29, 1969
To The Canyon News & People of Canyon:

Today I received The Canyon News of April 17, 1969. As always I was very glad to receive it. I want to write to express my viewpoints on the Our World column, from the April 17th edition. In this column you told about inflation and went on to tell about the billions of dollars the United States is sending to all these little foreign countries. Well, I'm in one of these small countries you spoke of. I'm an A Sergeant E-5 in South Korea at this time.

You said we the United States have put over 3 billion dollars into South Korea, well I'd like to know where this is going. I see that the U. S. government is supporting every person in South Korea, if they don't get it in foreign aid, they get it straight from the G. I. over here.

We the United States should cut off aid to this country as well as others and make them stand on their own two feet. These people do depend on the United States for everything.

We use more government equipment on their roads than they have roads. If that's what you call these ox cart trails, they call roads.

The U. S. government loses more than 3 million dollars a year to slickie boys, thieves. These people will steal anything and everything they can. The Korean civilians walk around in the winter better dressed than my G. I.'s working under me. They were wearing G. I. field jackets, boots, pants, shirts, caps, you name it, they have it. It's a damn shame the government won't do anything about this. When a Korean wears better clothes than the G. I.'s, something should be done. But what? Well, one pull out of Korea; these people can stand on their own two feet if the U. S. government would leave them alone.

News Brief

Mrs. Bill Bumgarner and Mrs. N. D. Watson were in Albuquerque, New Mexico several days last week relaxing.

Classified ads get fast results.

We don't need near the 50,000 troops we have stationed here. This alone counts for 2 to 3 million dollars lost by the government a year in money, tools and clothing. These people have given up on working for themselves and they're living off of the government. They can steal more than we can order and stock. Oh, I know G. I.'s are bad at this too, but not near as bad as these people. If the American people would ever wake up they could stop a lot of this stuff if they want. The government keeps the people of the states in the shade too much. If the people in the States only knew all of the black marketing that went on as well as the flat stealing by the Korean people.

They have more prostitutes in this country than the population of Canyon, Happy, and Tulsa and Hereford. There are 2,000 outside the gates to this compound and there's only 800 G. I.'s here. This alone helps count for money the American government wastes.

I am a firm believer in pulling out of South Korea and letting them stand on their own two feet.

I know people say: well, look, South Korea has its famed White House division in South Vietnam but do you know who foots the bill for them, you're right, the U. S. government. If a Korean person is disabled in Vietnam the Korean government gives them $100.00 and that's all. The U. S. government pays them $500.00 to boot. They have it made as long as our blind government officials keep throwing our money away.

If the U. S. would or could use half of what they gave to South Korea, and could get the other half that was stolen from the government back, we could do away with some taxes on taxes. But as long as these blind people running our government keep giving our money away, we'll never catch up.

These officials are so afraid of what the rest of the world will think if we pull out or cut off foreign aid. Well, let me tell you for a fact the Korean people on the whole don't really give a damn one bit less or more just as long as we keep giving them a free ride. They don't want to stand on their own two feet.

BY ANN BROWN

American parents have stood mutely on the sidelines and allowed the schools they support with their hard-earned money--and their children--to be taken away from them. With consolidation and its resulting depersonalization, the administrators took the schools away from the communities. With the advent of federal aid, the government took the schools away from the administrators. Now a few anarchist students under direction of their communist coaches are taking possession of our colleges; and HEW is confiscating our public schools.

Our World

Before our schools are destroyed completely, the parents, all the elevating, enlightening faculties, and administrators should join forces and regain control of our educational system. If we lost our schools--our nation, our homes, and our lives will probably follow in their wake. Too far fetched? It happened in Russia, Germany, and Cuba; and in China to an older, more stable civilization than our own.

Loyal American subscribe to the concept that the "Cultivated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy, and while guarded by virtue, the noblest attribute of man."

Our enemies know the quickest way to destroy us is to undermine our morals, and our schools are the logical starting place.

The IRS has already made liars out of the majority of American taxpayers; now the HEW seems determined to make lechers out of our children.

Parents who have not read the texts and seen the pictures that will be used to teach our children about sex in our public schools, should do so. And when parents are shocked and embarrassed by the materials, think of the effect on little children and sex-conscious teenagers.

Man becomes what he thinks about. SIECUS (Sex Information and Education Council of the U. S.) materials have reduced human sex behavior to the level of barnyard breeding--leaving absolutely nothing to the imagination. Anyone who is not aware that children are prone to imitate what they observe certainly does not know enough about children to be teaching them.

Those who devised SIECUS have taken the boldest, most productive step in their nefarious scheme to destroy America. No nation has ever been stronger than the morals of its women.

The only place sex can be safely taught is in the home. If proper sex education is not available in the home, it is like all the other virtues: adequate compensation cannot be made in the church or school--reform or otherwise.

The avowed aim of SIECUS is to remove young people's inhibitions about sex and make it so commonplace that it can be a casual subject of conversation at the family dinner table. With all the elevating, enlightening subjects available, why would any family want to discuss sex? Certainly, no other body function merits family discussion--why sex?

Dr. Mary Calderone, Executive Director of SIECUS, told 320 boys at Blair Academy in New Jersey that sex was "for fun," and that it was "unhealthy" to turn it off "like a faucet." She insisted that every person should forget his inhibitions and determine for himself when and where he would "enjoy" sex.

From the shameful increase of venereal disease and illegitimate births, with all their tragic aftermath, it would appear our young people need more--not less--sex inhibitions.

Sex like any other body function is natural, and should be controlled by adult minds. Man has but one age of innocence; why spoil it? The fallacy concerning sex education is well illustrated by the story of the six-year-old who raced in breathlessly from school, and asked his mother where he came from.

The mother, who had dreaded such a question since her son was born, went into an embarrassed dissertation about the birds and the bees.

When she had finished, the bored youngster said, "Aw shucks! Johnny said he came from Oklahoma."

If a child's questions are understood, and then answered honestly and unemotionally--within the limits of his understanding--sex education is no problem.

SIECUS materials are the lowest of pornography--sailing under the banner of education. Is this what American parents want in our public schools? If not, write to:

Honorable Carl Albert
House of Representatives
Room H-148
U. S. Capitol
Washington, D. C. 20510

Parents should also protest to local Senators and Representatives. Too much trouble? Remember, "All it takes for evil men to rule is for good men to keep silent."

(Parents wishing information on SIECUS should write The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C.)

RICHARDSON SEED FARMS

BRING YOU THE HYBRIDS THAT PRODUCE GREATER YIELDS

T-700

A red-seeded full season hybrid released in 1967. T-700 is capable of yields over 10,000 lbs. per acre where fertility and moisture are adequate. T-700 shows excellent early vigor even in cool-early season soils. Stands well and threshes easily.

1015R

A new early maturing hybrid released in 1968. Dwarf breeding makes this a short statured hybrid with excellent standability for dryland or late planted grain sorghums on irrigated or dry land. 1015R matures 3 to 6 days earlier than RS625. Yields in the top group of its maturity class.

202R

Our great all-purpose hybrids that are making outstanding yields everywhere. This short stalk drought tolerant hybrid has proven to be one of the best for farmers who want an early maturing variety.

202SR

202SR carries the same excellent characteristics of 202R — plus smut resistance. Blooms approximately one day earlier in most cases.

404R

Full season hybrid for the High Plains irrigated, high fertility areas. Consistently the top or near top hybrid in area research tests. Stands well and threshes easily. White seeded.

404SR

Smut resistant, full season hybrid for South Texas and central areas. Red-seeded and an outstanding producer in high fertility areas. This is a medium, full season hybrid in the High Plains irrigated area.

303SR

Smut resistant brother of the popular 303R. Medium maturity with outstanding root system and short sturdy stalks for excellent standability and high yield potential.

HY-R-GRAZE

Our great Sorghum and Sweet Sudangrass hybrid. Sweet Sudangrass parent makes Hy-R-Graze very palatable yet gives big fast growth all season. Hy-R-Graze has a record of good emergence in cold soils.

CERTIFIED VARIETIES DEVELOPED AND RELEASED BY TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

RS 671

A medium maturing smut-resistant hybrid. Matures about like Texas 660 and yields more on a shorter stalk.

RS 626

Has short, sturdy stalks, is smut-resistant and will yield about the same as RS 610.

RS 625

This is a short-stalk smut-resistant hybrid, has a good yield record and will mature as early as RS 608.

WTSU Presents Regina Coeli And Requiem

West Texas State University Chorus and Orchestra, directed by Hugh Sanders, will present Regina Coeli by Mozart and Requiem by Faure, May 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University.

Regina Coeli is a choral and orchestra arrangement of a hymn of praise and it features as soprano, Linda Davis of Irving; alto, Shary Kerbel of Canyon; tenor, Chris Munn of El Paso; and bass, Jim Stewart of Memphis.

The Requiem is to be presented by soprano, Elsa Porter and baritone, Royal Brantley, both faculty members of WTSU. The Requiem was begun by Faure to express his sense of personal loss on the death of his father. During its composition, his mother also died. It is said that the music reflects very clearly the reactions of a sensitive emotional experience of a Christian musician.

The musical work is thought of as the only major work of its kind since Mozart that is suitable for both liturgical and concert use. It is scored for chorus, soprano and baritone solos, organ, and orchestra.

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Choose this brand and you still have plenty of choices

For yield power where it counts, Texas grain sorghum producers have been choosing Pioneer varieties year after year. Such Pioneer hybrids as 846 have been breaking yield records from the top of the Panhandle to the South Plains. Besides popular 846 here are five other top performers from Pioneer:

828

This new full-season hybrid frequently yields above the five-ton level with plenty of water and ample fertility. Texas A&M tests and farm reports show 828 to be one of the highest yielding hybrids you can plant.

820

An old reliable, 820 has been a favorite on the high plains for six years, turning in some of the top yields in Texas year after year. This full-season variety is medium height with outstanding stalks and roots.

845

Another new Pioneer brand hybrid, 845 is a medium-maturity variety that yields with most full-season varieties. In the 1967 Texas A&M performance tests, the highest official yield for any variety, any maturity and any test was recorded by 845 — a whopping 10,570 pounds per acre.

848

This medium-maturity hybrid rates exceptionally well for standability and easy harvesting. Short, uniform plants have very strong stalks and roots. Open heads are loaded with heavy, red grain. An outstanding yielder for its maturity.

866

A medium-early hybrid, 866 yields along with many later varieties. Its uniform height and good head exertion make it easy to thresh. 866 performs well under dryland or irrigated conditions.

Pioneer has many other high yielding grain sorghum hybrids. Pioneer also has performance-proved seed corn hybrids for grain and silage. See your Pioneer dealer now and pick the variety that's best for you.

Closed Circuit TV In Making At University

If and when the Western Information Network—a tying of 18 state colleges through closed circuit television—is realized, West Texas State University will have a foot in the door.

And, even if the network is never formed, WTSU still has a system which has been described to have “unlimited potential.”

Work is being completed this week on the system—a complete closed-circuit television system which includes 14 monitor sets in seven large classrooms, one large television camera and five smaller camera units.

Dr. J. D. Strickland, associate professor of education, said a $40,000 grant from the Higher Education Act provided funding for the system, which is expected to be in operation this summer.

Temporarily, the camera and dual-screen monitor is located in the basement of the University Complex South with the 14 television screens placed two each in seven of the large lecture halls in the building. The seven rooms have a combined capacity of about 1,250 persons.

As it is set up now, a program may originate from the basement station or from any of the seven classrooms and be projected into all the other classrooms.

The cameras may also be used for video taping programs or lectures for later viewing.

“We can take it to a classroom, shoot video tape of an activity and then project it back over all seven stations,” Dr. Strickland said. “Or it can be used for individual viewing by the professor or students.”

Dr. Strickland said the primary function of the system will be in teacher education, particularly in micro-teaching.

He said micro-teaching is “a scaled down teaching experience in relation to time and the number of students, such as a student teacher working with 10 students for a 12-minute teaching unit. Then the student and/or supervising teacher and college personnel may review this teaching episode.”

Dr. Strickland said in this way, the system becomes valuable for self-evaluation by student teachers.

“Some of the faculty is looking forward to video taping their class presentations and studying them with the idea of improvement of instruction,” he said.

The system may also prove invaluable in cases where a professor has several sections of the same class. It will allow him to video tape certain segments of his class which could be shown to each section.

But, Dr. Strickland emphasized that the video taping of classes will by no means be used to replace teachers.

He said another principal use of the system will be “to try to bring into the classroom a recording of activities of students that are not readily observable while actually visiting some classrooms.”

For example, he said, the portable cameras could be taken to an area high school where certain classroom situations would be video taped and brought back for viewing by prospective student teachers.

Dr. Strickland said the setup could be used, too, if a nationally prominent educator appeared on campus.

“Instead of him going around and talking to six different sections, we will put him in one large room and take classes to the other rooms and he can speak to the entire group at one time,” he said.

The professor said it is also possible that other disciplines will use the equipment.

“It also may be used in some of the science courses where microscopes are used,” Dr. Strickland said, indicating the television camera could be used to photograph through a microscope.

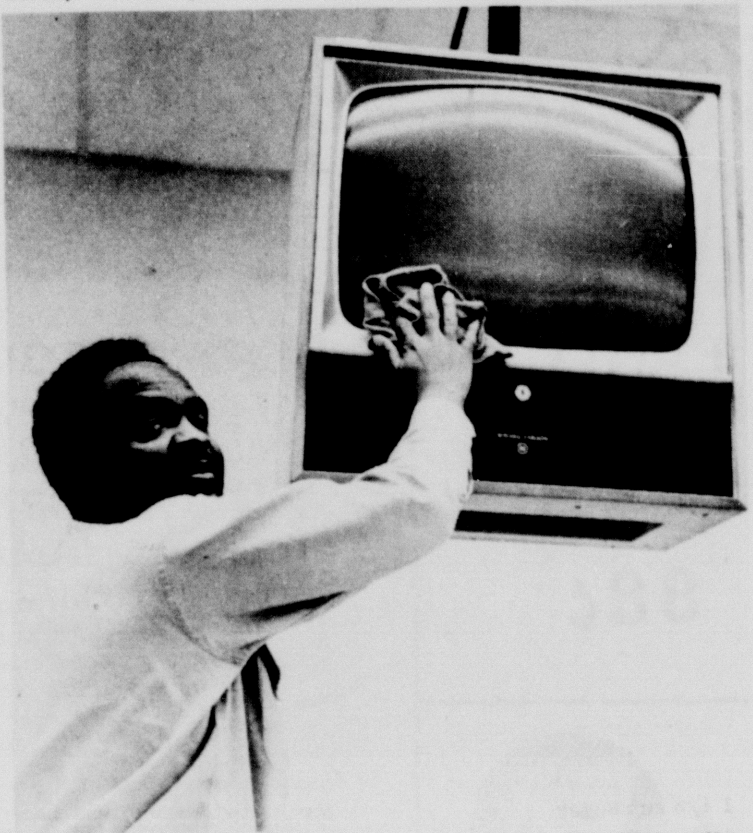

In connection with the Western Information Network, a tentative program now under study, Dr. Strickland said WTSU will already have the equipment necessary for such a closed-circuit-television link-up with the 18 other schools in the program.

He said the equipment meets tentative specifications called for by the network.

Dr. Strickland is enthusiastic about the future of the closed-circuit system.

“I’ve just returned from a national convention,” he said, “and the greatest trend I saw in education is toward the closed-circuit television and video taping.”

The grant for the equipment was applied for last year.

Lee Williams of Amarillo, a member of the custodial staff at West Texas State University, cleans the face of one of 14 television monitors placed in seven large classrooms in the University Complex South at West Texas State University. The monitors will allow closed-circuit television in the rooms.

He said the Umbarger district is in arrears $1,970 to Canyon school district and owes an additional $9,240 for the current term.

If the two schools consolidate the Canyon district would absorb Umbarger school's assets and assume its indebtedness.

Jacobs said six grades would continue to be taught at Umbarger on a trial basis for at least a year if the two schools consolidate.

"Naturally, the game fish went first," he declared.

Ferguson said Buffalo Lake probably will be closed to fishing at least until June of 1970. It is to be stocked within the next 10 days with Northern Pike, Black Bass and Crappie.

Fishing along the stream where there are some Bull-head Catfish, Black Bass and Crappie still will be permitted even while the remainder of the refuge is closed to fishing, Ferguson said.

Vote...

Campbell, retired Canyon businessman.

Campbell has been one of the chief spokesmen for a group known as Canyon Taxpayers League.

Proposed painted medians along 23rd as well as parking limitations has drawn the ire of the league.

Following is an excerpt from the letter:

"As you know, Interstate Highway 27, which has only recently been designated between Amarillo and Lubbock, will require a complete traffic analysis on highway needs in the vicinity of Canyon. We recognize the desires of some citizens to improve US 87 by the provision of a median and left turn storage lanes; however, it has been our determination that we should defer any such consideration of improvement until such time as we have completed new traffic estimates on both Interstate Highway 27 and US 87. It is quite possible that the construction of the Interstate Highway may alter the traffic on existing US 87 to such an extent that additional improvements may not be necessary."

Lewis further stated that improvements along US 87 would be undertaken only after public hearings.

The city commission has requested that medians be painted on the highway inside Canyon city limits and has received approval for left turn signals at all traffic lights along the thoroughfare with additional lights at Tenth Avenue and Spur 48.

Pierce said the letter was handed to him.

"Who is the Taxpayers League?" asked Mayor Lindsey.

"I don't know," replied Pierce. "It's just a group of people down on the highway that have pooled their money."

"Who are the officers?" asked Olsen.

"I don't know who they are," Pierce replied.

"I think you're going the right way," Pierce declared, referring to the called election.

"If you give both sides time to get it before the people you won't have any trouble."

Pierce went on to say that there haven't been any serious accidents on US 87 inside the city limits.

"How many accidents are necessary before some improvement is needed?" asked Commissioner Jim Christopher.

Christopher said some businesses may be hurt by the proposed no parking law but that he has seen nothing to substantiate a statement that any of them will be forced out of business.

"I wouldn't want to do anything to hurt anybody," said Commissioner H. R. Fulton. "It (traffic on 23rd Street) has been one of the hardest problems we've had since I've been on the commission."

Fulton said he thinks that if the people will study the facts they will decide that the parking limitations are needed.

"There never has been any move toward progress for Canyon without having some opposition," observed Mayor Lindsey. "Our first concern is for all the people."

Olsen made the motion for the election to be held May 23.

"That's pretty quick," declared Pierce.

"I don't know of any issue that's had more publicity," said Mayor Lindsey. "The newspaper has given us good, fair coverage on it. The paper has given both sides."

Olsen said it is absolutely necessary to hold the election before Canyon people begin summer vacation.

"Faculty and students (at West Texas State University) have a right to vote," he declared, "and they'll be gone after June 1."

"They could vote absentee," Pierce rejoined.

"One reason we've been having trouble is that we rushed into this thing to start with," he went on. "I think we should have studied some other traffic lights."

"You voted for it yourself," asserted Olsen, referring to the vote last year.

Proposed traffic controls, medians and parking regulations for 23rd Street and some adjacent avenues have been the focal point of heated controversy for some two years.

Chief critic of the commission's position has been the Canyon Taxpayers League.

The controversy was the central issue during the April city elections. As far as the 23rd Street controversy was concerned, the election was indecisive.

Pierce, who has been the consistent dissenter on the commission, was re-elected. Olsen, who has stood just as firmly on the opposite side of the question, was also returned to office.

Tanglewood News

BY GAY HENDRIX

Just because Kenneth and Mary Whipple walked off with that color TV last Sunday doesn't mean they are just sitting back to enjoy the yard this summer. Mary has more planting and weeding planned, which will get under way when Richard, Robert and Robin get out of school and the family moves to the lake for the summer. This is the first prize they have ever won, and Mary modestly attributes their success to the boys and several friends who spent much of their spare time this spring in the yard. The Whipples were planning to stretch the projects out over the entire summer, but the prospect of a prize accelerated their efforts, and their enthusiastic young friends were as excited about winning as the Whipples.

In spite of poor weather 72 people entered the open division of the fishing tournament Saturday, and an excellent selection of all kinds of fishing equipment—big and small—was collected for needy youngsters. Twenty-one kids entered the junior division. Even though only fourteen members were among the entrants, three Lake Tanglewood people walked off with trophies!

Gill Lemons caught the largest bass, 4 pounds, at the upper end of the lake near Palisades using a Rebel lure.

The youngsters seemed to enjoy the tournament the most. They checked in to the weighing station around 5:30 p.m. staggering under the weight of large baskets full of fish. Sharon Brown, daughter of Earl and Arnette Brown, who pulled in a 7 lb. 7 oz. carp, hauled in a total of 14 lb. 1 oz. to win the trophy for most weight. Sharon is the only fisherman in her family, but her enthusiasm seems to make up for the others. She was out at 7:30 a.m. and Arnette could lure her away for only 10 minutes for breakfast and lunch. Sharon's huge carp ate two lines and 4 hooks before she could finally land him.

Eddie Owens, son of Buddy and Jean Owens, won the trophy for the most fish caught. Eddie was out on their dock at 5:30 a.m. with a pole in each hand. By 3:00 Eddie was hungry, not to mention tired, but Buddy wouldn't let him give up—and the final count was 111 crappie which gave Eddie the trophy. Jesse and Ola Pearl Tucker recently purchased one of the new channel-side lots. Jesse owns Casey Carpet Company in Amarillo, and Ola Pearl is David Casey's sister. They have three children, BT, Susan and Patty (15). Patty is the only one still living at home, and she is all enthusiasm. Ola Pearl likes the fishing, Jess likes fishing and golf, and Patty just loves everything.

More new members, Roscoe and Anna Beth Kuhn of Dumas, have bought a new lot and are hoping to get a home on it this year. Roscoe owns a Phillips 66 station in Dumas, and being handy, has taken over the back yard of their Dumas home to build a boat dock. The Kuhn's daughter, Vivian Peden of Amarillo, and son, Tommy, who is in school at Goodwell, Oklahoma, plan to get as much fun out of this place as their parents. The Kuhns are active in all kinds of outdoor sports and according to Anna Beth "just everything is right down our alley". The Kuhns are friends of the A. D. Mosses and Walter Powell and have had an eye on Lake Tanglewood for three years.

Dona and Lu Donnell of Dumas have a new lot and intend to bring their 21-foot catamaran down here as soon as possible to start enjoying the skiing. Don is the superintendent of the Phillips Petroleum Plant and Lu is receptionist for Dr. Askins. They have a married daughter living in California and a younger daughter, Jill, who is a senior and a cheerleader at Dumas High, and plans to attend WTSU next fall.

Jim Fletcher is out doing things above and beyond any County Commissioner's call of duty. Last week one of our neighbors casually mentioned the accumulation of trash along the County road leading to the lake, and lo and behold, Jim went out with his pickup and heaped it full of the old cans and trash that were lying along the road and carried it off. It looks so much better. Thank you Jim!

HOMEMAKER OF THE WEEK Mrs. V. R. Reynolds selects favorite dessert recipes to share with our readers this week. Mrs. Reynolds, mother of four daughters, said that she "enjoys cooking for her family".
